HIRSCH*
ASID, GACID, NCIDQ, RID

Growing up with a father who was both an architect and watercolor artist, Janie Hirsch, founder of J. Hirsch Interior Design, came into her craft predisposed to creating beautiful visuals. Her professional career began in New York City where she worked for a lighting design firm after graduating from Louisiana State University with a Bachelor of Interior Design from the School of Architecture. Since those early days, Janie has made a name for herself and her full-service, Atlanta-based J. Hirsch Interior Design. She is a past President of American Society of Interior Designers leading a thriving local design community and served as a National Chapter Support Team member.

Janie believes a designer's gift is to listen to each client, learn how they live and create unique solutions that work for their needs, while reflecting their personality and style. One of Janie's signatures is her talent for using color as a neutral. Her method of designing curated, yet livable spaces have garnered dozens of local and national awards. J. Hirsch Interior Design has clients spanning the Southeast, and has been featured across various media outlets, including Traditional Home, Décor, and Beautiful Homes magazines, along with numerous coffee table books on fine design.
